Settling in News From your Interim Minister

Thank you to all of you who have helped me get settled in my new apartment. It takes about two weeks of hard work to unpack and get personal business underway in a new community. I couldn't have done it without you.

During the month of August my priority is meeting with leaders of our programs and others who can help me understand the recent history of the congregation and especially how things work. Either the Transition Team or I will be contacting you to set up meetings. Of course, if there is an urgent pastoral need I am also available.

Ministers' Office Hours: We are currently working to create a functional office for the minister. I have my computer and resources at home and generally work with email two-three times a day. I am available for meetings from Tuesday-Friday during the day, Tuesday-Thursday evenings, and part of some Saturdays for various kinds of meetings this month.

I will be leading the worship services on August 15 and 22 and be "out of the pulpit" but not "off" on August 29th. See you in Church!
Rev. Linda
