

UU SOUNDS & SPIRITS Concert Series 2016-2017

Jody Espina Trio

Sunday, Nov 20, 2016, 4pm

Jazz at its best featuring Savannah greats: saxophonist Jody Espina, guitarist Bill Smith, and bassist Mitch Hennes. Regularly seen and heard at Savannah's Cuban restaurant Rancho Allegre, these three, each a virtuoso in his own right, when blended together produce an unforgettable sound that cannot truly be appreciated in the restaurant scene. Our sanctuary is the perfect format to show off this incredible trio of artists. Don't miss it!

Uncommon Collective

Saturday, December 10, 2016, 7pm

A mix of music genres including holiday favorites, featuring harpist Kristin King, vocalists Trae Gurley and J.J. Collins, guitarist Bill Smith, mandolin player, Cory Chambers, and bassist Marc Chesnow.

Valen'tunes' Concert

Saturday, Feb 11, 2017, 4pm

Contemporary love songs, featuring American Traditions Vocal Competition winner Kim Polote with celebrated pianist David Duckworth.

Irish Treasures

Sunday, Mar 12, 2017, 4pm

Music of Irish heritage to herald the coming of St. Paddy's Day, featuring Savannah's finest soprano Rebecca Flaherty with pianist Kelly Carlile, harpist Kristin King and others.

City Hotel

Saturday, Apr 15, 2017, 7pm

Traditional bluegrass and bluegrass inspired music, featuring award winning Savannah bluegrass band led by mandolinist Cory Chambers.

Brass, Keys & Reed

Sunday, May 7, 2017, 4pm

Chamber music presented by three of Savannah's finest classical musicians: Savannah Philharmonic french hornist Micahel Daly, oboist Andrew Ripley, and award winning pianist Benjamin Warsaw of the Armstrong Atlantic State University's formidable music department.

Mouths of Babes

Saturday, June 4, 2017, 7pm

Contemporary folk music offered up by Atlanta based duo Ty Greenstein and Ingrid Elizabeth - heralded by the Huffington Post as "insanely infectious onstage, like a musical and personal love fest all at once!"

Each 70-75 minute concert will be followed by a wine reception in Rahn Hall

Appropriate for ages 13 and above

Admission: $20 at the door and online at www.uusavannah.org or $15 in Rahn Hall on Sundays